Introduction to Erasmus+ Programme

Version 1

Co-funded by the Erasmus+ Programme of the European Union

Welcome to Erasmus Information Office!

'Education is the passport to the future, for tomorrow belongs to those who prepare for it today.' Malcolm X¹

An academic experience abroad can teach us a lifetime of lessons, which perhaps goes beyond classroom learning. Mobility of students and faculty members may offer insights into one's own as well as others' cultures. While there have been many international programmes which facilitate cross border mobility of individuals, the work and impact of the Erasmus programme cannot be emphasized enough.

The Erasmus programme (European Region Action Scheme for the Mobility of University Students) is an EU funded programme that facilitates academic exchanges. Each exchange is designed to enable the student to gain valuable international experience by studying part of their degree abroad². Erasmus+ also aims to promote the sustainable development of its partners in the field of higher education, and contribute to achieving the objectives of the EU Youth Strategy³.

Erasmus programme in last 30 years however, has gone beyond its initial objective to include mobility of staff members of universities (both teaching and non-teaching) and also beyond Europe to include other regions in the world. This has opened doors of opportunities for Indian students and university staff as well. The present booklet provides information to those who seek these generous scholarships for themselves or for their institutions.

For students and faculty members looking for individual scholarships and funding opportunities in Europe, please refer to Part I and Part III of this booklet.

For institutional scholarships and grants, please refer to Part II and Part III of this booklet.

Student mobility can take place in any discipline/field of studies

- Duration of the activity: From 5 days to 2 months, excluding travel time

Notes

- With regard to student mobility, the student should be enrolled at least in the second year of their higher education studies
- Teaching activity has to comprise a minimum of 8 hours of teaching per week

HOW CAN I PARTICIPATE IN ERASMUS EXCHANGE ON STUDENT OR STAFF MOBILITY FUNDS?

An institutional agreement must be in place between the departments/institution of two universities under Erasmus ICM.

You should contact your department/institution directly to find out further details of the options that are available to you or the Office of International Affairs at MAHE

Students are expected to sign a learning agreement signed by the Head of the Institution who would facilitate recognition of the credits earned in the partner university and also institutional Erasmus Coordinator

Erasmus Mundus Joint Master Degrees

An Erasmus Mundus Joint Master Degree (EMJMD), is a prestigious, integrated, international study programme, jointly delivered by an international consortium of higher education institutions. The EMJMD Catalogue displays the masters offering Erasmus Mundus funded scholarships for every academic year. An EMJMD is a study programme of 60, 90 or 120 ECTS credits. This means that it lasts from a minimum of 12 months, to a maximum of 24 months. Generally, a semester comprises of 30 ECTS.

A student can apply individually for this scholarship and an institution can apply as a partner in a consortium.

Most consortia require applications to be submitted between October and January, for courses starting the following academic year around September. Students can apply to a maximum of three different programmes. Students and potential scholars'/guest lecturers should contact directly the relevant consortium for more information on courses and application procedures.

The EMJMD scholarship covers your participation costs (including the tuition fees, library and laboratory costs, full insurance coverage and any other mandatory costs related to your participation in the Master); it represents a contribution to your travel and installation costs and includes a monthly subsistence allowance for the entire duration of the study programme.

You must have obtained a first higher education degree or demonstrate a recognised equivalent level of learning, according to national legislation and practices, in the degree awarding countries. If you have already received an EMJMD or an Erasmus Mundus Master Course/Joint Doctorate scholarship, you are not eligible for an additional EMJMD scholarship. You cannot benefit from another EU-funded scholarship scheme while you are receiving an EMJMD scholarship.

Important Notes

- Students at Master's level worldwide can apply
- EMJMD is a degree seeking programme, whereas under Erasmus ICM students do not seek a degree during their Erasmus mobility
- The home institution is required to provide a nomination letter to the student for Erasmus ICM, whereas, nomination letter is not a requirement for EMJMD

INSTITUTIONAL SCHOLARSHIPS AND GRANTS

Key Action I International Credit Mobility

Key Action 2: Cooperation for innovation and the exchange of good practices

The actions under KA2 make it possible for organisations from different participating countries to work together, to develop, share and transfer best practices and innovative approaches in the fields of education, training and youth.

The following actions are managed by the EACEA as part of the General call for proposals and described in detail in the Programme Guide⁵:

- Strategic partnerships in the field of education, training and youth
- Knowledge Alliances cooperation between higher education institutions and enterprises;
- Capacity Building in the field of youth supporting cooperation with Partner Countries;
- Capacity Building in the field of higher education (CBHE) supporting cooperation with Partner Countries

Indian HEIs can apply for CBHE projects for curriculum revisions or pedagogical innovations in different disciplines and apply for a grant of a maximum of a million Euro. These are Consortial applications and require Indian HEIs to have at least a few partners in Europe and India. Indian HEIs can also be partners in a Consortium led by another Indian university or a European university and receive a part of the funds that the Consortium applies for. These are highly rewarding in terms of the research and academic cooperation.
